PROJECT OUR ASSOCIATES COULD BE PART OF

BIOXAGROPOLE

BIOXAGROPOLE project, officially presented at the World Climate Conference at Cop 22 in Marrakech, has been very successful throughout Africa. It is the first major agro-eco-industrial platform to be developed in the territories of Morocco and Tunisia.

A group of Italian companies associated with I.C.I.M. will have a major role in the implementation of the first lot in Morocco (Dakhla).

Thanks to innovative biotech technologies, a first lot of 30,000 hectares will be taken from desertification, bringing about an economic and social impact (creating at least 20,000 jobs) in a strategic region which is just a few kilometers from Europe, this could be an example of sustainable eco-development.

Moreover the Tunisian government shared great enthusiasm to the Bioxagropole project, as it will occupy 10,000 hectares of its own territory.

A biotechnological park will be built in the African desert and it will be powered by renewable sources, useful to irrigate (through desalinated ocean water) large cultivations in hydroponic greenhouses and plantations of aloe and jatropa;

Italian companies will be leading the project, enriching it with quality and professionalism.
